SEAN FEE– Director

Sean Fee is a Director and Cinematographer who grew up in California and South East England. He started making videos with his brother when he was a teenager. His passion for Skateboarding, Surfing and Snowboarding has helped him develop a connection and awareness for nature, culture and adventure. His storytelling reflects his desire to engage with the complexities of the human condition. He lives in Zurich Switzerland with his wife and two children.

"I believe that there is much more to this world than what we tend to surround ourselves with, and one should remind themselves of this daily"