

DUNCAN CHRISTIE – Director

Duncan Christie is a director working internationally in commercials, music videos and film. His career started with a shortlist for D&AD's next director award and since then he's worked with brands like Amazon, Vodafone, McDonald's and Breast Cancer Now, picking up awards at The Clios, The APA show, The LIA awards, Epica and The One Show along the way. His short films have screened at Bafta and Oscar accredited festivals around the world and his short film 'Tom' was funded through the BFI's emerging talent fund.

Duncan is a Director with a talent for writing honest and emotional stories. He combines a modern visual aesthetic that works across all channels. His films are characterised by emotional storytelling, a keen visual eye, skilful acting and the resulting powerful performances from the cast.

www.duncanchristiedirector.com

